SAMUEL AYERS,
FORMERLY OF DANVILLE, KENTUCKY,
WATCH MAKER,

Successor to B. F. MEEK, Main Street, Frankfort, Ky., continues the watch repairing business at the old stand. By unceasing and untiring work he hopes to merit the patronage of those who desire to have their watches repaired without damage being done them. Surveyors' compasses repaired and other instruments requiring delicate and accurate adjustment.

In writing from business in Frankfort I take pleasure in expressing my entire confidence in Mr. S. Ayers, and from my long acquaintance with him as a workman, do not hesitate to commend him as every way capable of meeting the expectation of my former patrons.

The Grave of Daniel Boone.

The following song was written by Mrs. Elizabeth Mills Pratt, sister of Dr. J. M. Mills, formerly of this city, in 1847, soon after the removal of the remains of the old pioneer and his wife from Missouri to our beautiful Cemetery, and gained quite a reputation by being sung all over the State by a band of singers called the "Columbians" who set it to the tune of "Oh, carry me back to Old Virginia's Shore." Many of the matrons of this city will doubtless be glad to read and treasure these lines as a memento of Miss Betsy Mills, their teacher in the long ago:

I.

From a lonely grave in Missouri land,
A murmuring voice there came:
Oh, sons of the West, a noble land,
If ye still revere my name,
List to the earnest prayer I breathe,
And my spirit shall plain to you;
Oh, hasten to carry me back
To my own Kentucky shore;

Oh, carry me back, etc.
II.

In the days of old my chosen home
Was the dark and bloody ground;
The music I heard was the panther's scream,
Or the night wolf howling round;
But the banits that in life I loved the best,
In death are mine no more;
Oh, I long for my slumbering dust to rest
On my own Kentucky shore;

Oh, carry me back, etc.

III.

The quiet shade and the mountain brook

Afar from the haunts of men;

The fires of the red men left to die,

Were my sweetest pleasures then;

I journeyed with deadly foes behind,

Hunger and death before;

Oh, let me rest where I walked in pride—

On my own Kentucky shore;

Oh, carry me back, etc.

IV.

Trials and toils and triumphs were mine,

Such as brave men only knew;

Oh, sons of the West who at ease recline,

I encountered those dangers for you.

Now my labors are done, my strength it is gone;

My wanderings and sorrows are o'er;

Oh, let me rest in my lovely spot

On my own Kentucky shore;

Oh, carry me back, etc.

V.

The call we have heard, and there hastened away

A brave and generous band;

To find the old hero's lonely dust

To the far Missouri land;

And mounted and rider with grateful care

We bore his ashes o'er;

And gave him a grave in the holy earth

Of his own Kentucky shore.

We've borne him back, we've borne him back

To his own Kentucky shore.

VI.

On a fair green hill, with a river beneath

Singing a falling tune

In the holy earth that pillows the head

Of the glorious Daniel Boone,

There let me rest, the warrior brave,

And his spirit shall pine no more,

With naught to disturb his hallowed sleep

On his own Kentucky shore.

We've borne him back, we've borne him back

To his own Kentucky shore.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Dated at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class mail matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS,

Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, AUGUST 23, 1883.

The usual concert at White Hall to night.

Frankfort now has mails on all the Sunday trains which arrive and depart from this city. The new arrangement went into effect last Sunday.

The Lexington mail arrives at 4:10 p.m., and departs at 5:12 p.m. The Louisville mail arrives at 10:5 a.m., and departs at 5:25 p.m. The mails going out are closed half hour before the hours above given, and the general delivery and call boxes at the post-office will only be opened from four until five o'clock. In the afternoon, those having lock boxes can get their mail at any time, as the mails will be distributed shortly after arrival. No money orders will be issued or letters registered on Sunday.

A social entertainment was given on Thursday evening by Miss Maggie A. Lewis, in honor of her cousin, Miss Julia Abbott, who was greatly enjoyed by the young folks who attended, and was quite a brilliant affair. The young ladies present were Misses Julia Abbott of Covington; Etta Whitestone, of Louisville; Mary Morrison, of Little Rock, Arkansas; Ruby Tarantall and Julia Shely, of St. Louis; Missouri; Lella Bush, of Hawesville; Fannie Tuley, of New Albany, Indiana; Lizzie Hurst, of Woodford county; Genie Barely, of Georgetown; Todd Saffell, Andie Critcher, Pattie Roberts, Sallie Sneed, Blanche Kendall, Sue Bush, Fannie Murphy, Nellie Chinn, Elsie Todd, and Mrs. W. H. Poey, of this city. The gentlemen were Messrs. W. J. McEwan, Will Lindsey, Crittenden Todd, Jas. M. Todd, Jr., Sidney Bush, Will J. Dudley, Dr. J. C. Bush, Frank Haff, El. W. Gines, Ed. Tittle, John Stewart, Sam Bull, Jr., John Murphy, Frank Holman, J. Wesley Wright, James Cook, of Harroldale, C. E. James, Dr. Sam James, W. P. Hudson, Dudley Watson, Jas. W. Blackburn, Frank Cannon, Grant Green, Jr., Geo., K. Crane, S. D. Johnson, Jake Corbett, and J. W. Gayle.

The Mysterious Twelve.

For the past two weeks some of our citizens have noticed a small procession from in front of the Court-house, every afternoon about six o'clock, and proceed down St. Clair street, and have wondered what it meant. As our place of business lay on the line of their march, we have watched the mysterious crew with some interest and found that it was always composed of the Court-house clique and inhabitants of the legal den in the vicinity of the Temple of Justice to the number of twelve—never any more and seldom less. On inquiry we learned that they were an organization called the "Mysterious Twelve," which sprang into existence the day on which the High Sheriff of this county made so narrow an escape from being incarcerated in Col. Sheehan's Castle for presuming to tack a legal notice on the front door of the Court-house during the sitting of an examining court. After the court adjourned on that afternoon the younger members of the bar and other Court-house attaches, held a meeting and resolved, that inasmuch as the Sheriff had only escaped having to play checkers with his nose, as well as having to sell all his entire possessions to pay an enormous fine through the kindness of heart of the Associate Justice, Judge R. E. Gaines, of Belle Point who refused to sign the mittimus and agree to the assessing of the flag, therefore he be required to forthwith "set 'em up" to the Judge and his friends, of whom they were which.

When the matter was placed before the Sheriff in a proper light he consented to head the procession, and led them down to Weitzel's, where they did all themselves with ice cream and cake as today to the Judge and his friends, of whom they were which.

Since that time the joy of the twelve at the escape of the Sheriff has been so great that every afternoon about six o'clock they assemble to commemorate the event, form in procession and proceed to Weitzel's, where some member of the gang stands treat. Mr. J. S. Harrod, Common School Commissioner, is the head controller and Director, Circuit Clerk, R. B. Franklin, the Keeper of Records, and every member who is not present in person or by proxy is promptly filed the soda water for the crowd, to paid at some future meeting.

We were fortunate enough to get in as a "sub," one evening this week, and would not object to becoming a member in full fellowship, but the select number is full.

Mr. John Heffner Dead.

Mr. John B. Heffner died at the residence of his mother, on Madison street, Wednesday afternoon about half past three o'clock, after a brief but painful illness, in the 36th year of his age. He had been in failing health for several years, and was compelled to give up his business, that of photographing, on account of it, but no one of his many friends will see him on the street but a few days since dreamed of his death so soon.

Conscious of his condition, he quietly made his arrangements as if only going on a journey, expressed his willingness to lie and passed away calmly and peacefully. He was a conscientious, good young man, very popular with all who knew him, and he will be mourned by a host of friends. He leaves a wife and one child, who, together with other relatives, have the deepest sympathy of this community. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon, from the Episcopal Church, of which he was a member.

The game of base ball Thursday between the Pleasantville and Capital City Clubs was a Waterloo for the home team, the score standing 23 to 15 against them. The game was long and uninteresting. The Frankfort boys were short there catcher, and seemed to be bodily demoralized on account of his absence, while the catcher for the Pleasantville, Mr. Hammond, was as good as ever stood behind the bat and did the only really good playing of the game.

The Pleasantville boys concluded to stay over until yesterday afternoon and a second game was played yesterday morning, when our boys returned the compliment with interest, the score standing 25 to 11 in their favor.

E. P. BRYAN, Agent.

The Yeoman's prophet made a misnomer on the rain. He forgot that "all signs fail in dry weather."

Barnum has posted bills in this city announcing that his circus will appear in Lexington next Saturday.

Mr. Henry Borchhardt has closed his branch men store in South Frankfort, the patronage not being sufficient to justify its continuance.

The brick work on the new Bahr Hotel is completed and workmen are busy putting on the roof. When completed it will be a handsome office.

The repairs on the dam at Lock No. 1 have been about completed and the Fannie Freese has resumed her regular trips. She will be up to-morrow.

Messrs. Jett & Scott have placed Dromon Spring water on draft in the Southern Excursion at Louisa. Mr. W. P. Scott, of this county has charge of the stand.

A great many persons are taking advantage of the low rates on the railroad to visit Louisville. Now all the trains which pass through this city are crowded both ways.

Mr. Henry Gohr has broken ground for the foundation of two business houses on his lot on the corner of Lewis and Broadway streets, recently purchased by him of the O'Hara estate.

The toll gate on the Versailles pike, one mile and a half from this city, is to be abolished, and the gate consolidated with the one at the junction of the Georgetown pike, as it was formerly.

Mr. James Matthews, an employee at Messrs. Rodman & Sneed's mill, while at work at a planing machine Tuesday morning, was so unfortunate as to get his left hand caught in the machine, and lose the ends of the three first fingers.

Owing to inauguration day coming this year, the day after the set for opening the school in this city, all of the principals of the institutions of learning have announced that their schools would not commence until Wednesday, the 5th of September.

Capt. G. Marsh Woods, of this city, has purchased an interest in the steamer Katie P. Konz, and will leave in a few days for New Orleans to take charge of her. He will run her between New Orleans and some of the lower tributaries of the Mississippi.

The work on dam No. 1 has been completed and the river is again open to navigation. The stage of the water could not be better for work on the lower slope of the dam below this city, and it has been pushed right along. It is hoped to get it completed this season.

The next session of Kentucky Eclectic Institute will open on the 3d of September. The school will continue as heretofore, under the charge of Prof. S. G. Stevens, whose large experience as a teacher has thoroughly fitted him for the position, and no better school can be found in this section by parents and others having children to educate. The terms are very reasonable.

Last year the city refused to allow the Gas Company to use water from the reservoir for love or money, and they were forced to sink a well to supply their works with water, but were fortunate enough to secure an abundant supply. Now when the city is without water the Gas Company have many pipes over their funds and are applying all their efforts to the Centennial at Philadelphia, and it is being turned to other portions of the city.

The Kentucky Central and Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad will run an excursion train from Covington to Old Point Comfort and Washington City, leaving Covington on Tuesday, September 4th. The rates from all stations will be, to Old Point and return, $11.00; to Washington and return, $12.50. This is an opportunity to take one of the grandest trips for a small amount that has been offered this summer.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will give a dinner in the Court House on Tuesday, September 4th—inauguration day—for the benefit of the church, and all the hungry mortals who are in town that day will be certain to get a square meal, if they desire it, for a small amount. No hotel in the city will be able to come up to them in the character of fare they will furnish, and we hope our country friends will not forget us.

In the game of base ball at White Sulphur, Scott county, Wednesday, between the Capital City and the Georgetown Club, the game was won by the club from this city, the score standing 18 to 13 in their favor at the end of the seventy ninth inning. The day being exceedingly warm our boys declined to play longer and the game, together with the silver cup offered as a prize to the winning club, was given to the Georgetown club.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Mrs. M. T. Ranney will open the thirty-fifth annual session of her school, Greenwood Seminary, on the 5th of September.

This is now the oldest school in the State, and the announcement will secure for Mrs. Ranney a full compliment of scholars, many of them the children of her pupils of years gone by.

The Georgetown, Newtown and Payne's Depot preachers, in Scott county, will vote on the question of subsidizing $50,000 to the capital stock of the Frankfort, Georgetown & Paris Railroad on the 22d of September.

It is now proposed to tap the L. & N. Road at some point between this city and Midway. Mr. S. F. J. Tradine, of this county, will address the people of Scott county upon the subject at several points in the precincts named before the election.

A stage full of tourists returning from Yosemite Valley, California, were robbed near Inspiration Point, in that State, on the 14th of this month. A posse from Mr. Jas. A. Murray states that he and Mr. Joe LeCompte, now in San Francisco attending the triennial Grand Conclave of Knights Templar of the United States, were to have taken the stage which was robbed but changed their minds and went another route, and thus missed the pleasure of being made to "stand and deliver."

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that an opportunity is offered some one to purchase one of the handsomest places near this city. Mr. John T. Gray's family having been greatly diminished by his children growing up, and going out into the world, he desires to break up house-keeping and offers his home for sale. There are six acres of land on the place which can be made a splendid market garden or used as a pasture, is a nice distance from the city, and just the place to suit some business man. He will sell it at a bargain.

Mr. Benjamin F. Harrod, who lives in the Bald Knob neighborhood, went into Dr. W. H. Hall's drug store Monday morning, made some purchases, and went out, leaving his pocket book containing $100 lying on the counter. After going down on Market street he discovered his loss and returned to look for his money. The book could not be found, but Dr. Hall remembered that a colored woman was in the store at the same time, and thinking she probably had picked it up, called in Officer J. M. Stephens, described the woman to him and related the circumstances. The officer soon found her with the money in her possession, which she readily gave up, saying she had found it. She was taken in charge, and had a trial directly afterward, which resulted in her being held over to the Circuit Court on the charge of grand larceny. Mr. Harrod got his money back and left for home as happy as a lark.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shaefferland returned home Saturday from Louisville, where they have been spending a week visiting.

The Hindoo Doctor (a certain lady out here calls him the Hindoo) passed through the neighborhood last week, selling his medicine.

Could not some of the city preachers make it convenient to come out here Sunday evenings and preach for us? What say the reverend gents.

Mr. Charles Truel, in smoking the vermin out of his corn crib last Tuesday, set it on fire, and it was burnt up, together with a barrel of corn and twenty-six sticks of tobacco.

Misses Lee and Maggie Rossel and Miss Lee visited the Sunday-school in St. Louis last Sunday evening. They gave out, however, a newly acquired Latin Fision, which was driving, turned the lines over to Miss Leora, and hence Miss Maggie took it along.

The leading feature, and the most interesting, at the meeting of the Point Pleasant bathing society last Friday night, was the reading of the "Point Pleasant Reporter" by the editor, Miss Lizzie Stivers. The paper was full to overflowing of wit, humor and literature, and the fair editor captivated her audience by her manner and style of reading.

What a gay way would have been if credit to other minds. As it was, it showed Miss Lizzie to be a gifted writer.

Belle Point.

Robt. Quire is the Grocer who keeps the big watermelons.

A few big watermelons are badly needed in this burg. What would become of us in case of fire?

Born.—On Monday morning to Mr. J. S. Davis and wife, a son—John Anderson weight eleven pounds.

Miss Annie Cox, of Covington, Ky., is visiting the family of Judge Robert E. Gaines, on Kentucky Avenue.

How much more beautiful and convenient would Lake Park be if the break in the dam should be repaired.

Miss Mary Purse, a very pretty blonde, from Penn's Mill, is visiting the family of John W. Gaines, on Benson street.

Miss Maggie Nod, of Taylortown, and Miss Faunie Nod, of Bloomington, have been spending this week with the family of John W. Gaines.

Judge Robt. E. Gaines had the misfortune of having his toe mashed by the accidental falling of a piece of iron which he was handling. He had to crush it again.

Would it not be advisable for the town authorities in view of the great military display to make Sept. 1st, to have all the sidewalk on Kentucky Avenue thoroughly repaired.

The mammoth wholesale and retail building erected by Mr. F. P. Lewis is rapidly approaching completion. Thanks to the prompt and efficient contractors Messrs. Allison & Turpin.

The public school over here is in a sad predicament. No schoolhouse nor any money to pay. Who do you think the citizens hold a public meeting and take steps to supply the dissidence?

The Sabbath-school, under the management of Col. Sallie, is progressing finely, but is sorely in need of teachers. On that account valiant self-sacrificing Christians would rise up to our assistance.

We are pleased to notice the advent into our town of a new signboard which reads, "Wagon and Carriage Manufactory, by Harrison Brown." It is needless to say Mr. Brown is getting all he can do.

"Pink Cottage" (not Barnes') is a new and very convenient residence for a small family is about completed and is ready for occupancy. It is located on Polsgrove street, and is for rent or sale. Messrs. Allison & Turpin builders.

One of our most enterprising citizens, Mr. Louis A. Moore, will in a short time commence erecting a grist-mill in our town. This will be a great addition to Mr. Moore, and we sincerely trust that his undertaking will prove a great success. In fact there is no reason why it will not be.

Now isn't that a pretty fashion to see a young man escorting a young lady with his arm thrust through her's to his shoulders, and posing her on one foot at an angle of about 45 degrees. Beautiful fashion, elegant style. Wonder if Belle Point isn't the only place on the globe where they do that way.

Mr. Robt. Quire is the possessor of a bronze medal given by the International Exhibition at Philadelphia, 1876, to the effect that his "Improved Patent Iron" is equal to the following material: "For the fine homogeneous texture, pleasing color and strength of the stone. Would it not be well for the Custom House Commissioners to examine this stone."

HEART DISEASE!

CURED BY

Dr. Rush's Regulator,

FOR HEART TROUBLES.

Wm. G. Osgood, the well-known safe manufacturer of Buffalo, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Newark, and Atlanta, Ga., says:

OFFICE OF OSGOOD'S IMPROVED SAFES,
ATLANTA, Ga., October 12th, 1883.

Dr. Robt. E. Medical Association:

Dear Doctor.—The three bottles of "Dr. Rush's Regulator" I ordered were received by express last week. I have taken nearly one bottle and am now using it with great benefit. For the past four years I have been troubled with sharp pain at my heart. My physician, upon examination pronounced me unable to bear it. The trouble could not be cured.

Dr. Osgood's Regulator, however, is the product of one of the most prominent physicians there, who charged $100.00 for it. I am now using it with great benefit. Knowing you to be a regular medical association, and not a patent medicine manufacturer, I beg you to let me know if you have been troubled since I commenced taking it, but shall continue to use the entire three bottles as so to obtain a permanent cure. I am very sincere thanks.

Yours, Wm. G. OSGOOD.
